It's Fall, how did that happen!

What is it about time that seems to either stand still or speed by. I'm sure there's a book on that topic I could read if I had time.

In this issue I've update the digital trial logins and Fall promotions from each publisher. Also, I'll share some popular series from the new releases based on customer feedback over the past several weeks. Now all you need to find some time to browse this issue.
